Announces

Teacher Institute Hawai'i

June 5-8, 2012 on O'ahu and June 21-24, 2012 on Maui

The Division of Forestry and Wildlife has teamed up with facilitators from Navigating Change, Aloha 'Āina, Haleakalā National Park as well as other members of our community to present two teacher workshops. For $75 these four day workshops will provide participants with curriculum resources, new contacts, and support for teaching place-based science and promoting a sense of mālama 'āina in students.

Details can be found on our website at <http://hawaii.gov/dlnr/dofaw/PLT/2012>.

Applications are due May 24th 2012. Questions can be directed to Stephanie Hurder at Stephanie.M.Hurder@hawaii.gov or at (808) 587-4169.

Mahalo for the in-kind and financial support from many organizations, especially the DOFAW Kaulunani Urban and Community Forestry Program, Haleakala National Park, and the Papahānaumokuākea Marine National Monument co-trustee, NOAA.
